Since 1851 according to statistics, the emigration from Ireland foots up 3,841,419—2,003,344 males and 1,838,075 females. And they have furnished this country some mighty good citizens, too.

Up in Maine the liquor men in a town nominated a preacher for constable. They intended it for a joke, but he accepted, was elected and now the joke is on them, for he is watching them like a lynx and enforcing the law to the letter.

A large part of Canada is almost a terra incognita. There are, out of the 3,450,275 square miles in the Dominion, more than 1,350,000 that have never been explored. Nearly 1,000 of this is practically unknown. It is covered with a dense growth of hard woods and is supposed to abound in minerals.

THE BOND ELECTION.

Date Changed to June 18th and Registrars and Inspectors Appointed for Same.

THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Held Regular Monthly Meeting Yesterday Afternoon and Transacted Principally Routine Business—Jurors Drawn for Criminal Court.

The principal feature of yesterday afternoon's regular monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners was the appointment of registrars and inspectors and the designation of polling places for the election on the bond issue for public road improvement, all of which appears from an official advertisement in another column, and the changing of the date for the said election from May 31st to June 18th, in order that it will conform to the requirements of the new election law, copies of which were not closely examined until after the first date had been announced.

All members of the Board were present and Chairman McEachern presided. The usual reports of the Superintendent of Health, Superintendent of Roads and Register of Deeds; embracing no special features, were read and ordered on file.

James Irwin, colored, of Masonboro townships, and Lydia Simmons, colored, of Cape Fear township, were placed on the outside pauper list at $1 per month and William Usher, colored, of Harnett township, at $1.50 per month.

Commissioner Alexander reported that the "water section" of the county fence had been repaired at a cost of $11 to the county.

The chairman and Commissioner Montgomery were empowered to have the fence around Oak Grove cemetery repaired at once.

The action of Commissioner Holmes in approving sheriff's warrants for jury tickets, in the absence of the chairman, was approved.

The list of jurors for the next term of Criminal Court for New Hanover county, published in another column, was then drawn and the Board adjourned, subject to call of the chairman.

DR. W. D. M'MILLAN ELECTED.

Chosen Superintendent of Health by the County Sanitary Committee.

The County Sanitary Committee, a creation of the last Legislature and members of which were recently appointed by the Mayor and Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, met yesterday afternoon and selected Dr. W. D. McMillan, superintendent of health for New Hanover county, for a period of two years. The salary of the office remains as heretofore—$100 per month.

Present at the meeting were all the Commissioners, who are ex-officio members of the Sanitary Committee and Drs. L. H. Love and T. S. Burbank.

REV. R. W. HOGUE DECLINES.

The vestry of St. James' Episcopal parish, this city, yesterday received a letter from the Rev. Richard W. Hogue, of Sheffield, Ala., declining the call recently extended him to succeed the Rev. Dr. Robert Strange, who resigned several months ago to become rector of St. Paul's parish, Richmond, Va.

The Installation Service.

The installation services of Rev. J. M. Wells, Ph. D., as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, were well attended on Sunday morning and were very impressive. The charge to the pastor by Rev. E. E. Lane, of Immanuel Presbyterian church, was spoken of as having been especially forcible and the sermon by Rev. D. P. McGeachy and charge to the people by Rev. R. M. Williams were also favorably spoken of. Twenty minute services are being held each morning this week preparatory to the communion next Sunday.

CREOSOTED CROSS TIES.

When the Hon. John D. Bellamy began the construction of the Wilmington Street Railway in May, 1897, he had several hundred sap pine cross ties treated with the wood preserver of the Spirittine Chemical Company, of this city, General Manager Hanson superintending the work. These ties, which under normal conditions would not last more than two years, are being removed to-day (in a most perfect state of preservation, because they are too small, being 4x6) for the heavy rail that is being laid. The spirittine wood preserver manufactured by the Spirittine Chemical Company is no longer an experiment, having stood the most rigid test successfully for fourteen years. The oil, owing to certain chemical ingredients with which it is treated, has thoroughly penetrated the wood and consequently made it very much harder and stronger, as was proven yesterday by sawing one of the ties in two. The spikes that held the rails are so secured that they can scarcely be with drawn. The odor, too, is almost as strong and distinct as when the oil was put in fourteen years ago.

Five hundred people yesterday afternoon saw the Giants take the game from Ashenback's Shipbuilders by a score of six to three. It was a splendid exhibition and the weather conditions were very favorable to the sport. It looked at first as if the Virginians had gone in to win and the heart of the average Wilmington rooter began to become faint when Newport went up and Deisel walked and was followed by a sacrifice by Sechrist and a hot liner to third, scoring Deisel. Ashenback's fellows then went to work playing hard ball and Wilmington was unable to follow with a score. Both sides were playing hard ball, when Hempleman led off for Newport with a hit to right for three bags and after Renner had fanned was scored by a single past second by Hieberger.

Then it was that the Giants realized that they must play ball if they would win and with the score two to nothing, Clayton put on his batting clothes and singled to left, followed by Allen, who hit through short and sent Clayton flying to third. Thackara fanned and Warren singled to left upon which with a beautiful slide to the plate, Clayton scored; Stewart singled to short and Allen flew into home like a high diver; Cranston hit safe and slow to first and Stewart and Warren scored; Cranston stole second; Crockett fanned; McGinnis hit safe on error to short and on a slow throw from second Cranston went under the wire in two-forty time, making five runs in the single inning.

It was extremely hard, fast and clever ball playing from then to the eighth inning, when Wilmington made another run and in the ninth Newport News got another making its score three. Wilmington did not take her half of the ninth.

In the eighth, after not allowing the visitors to score, Clayton went up and walked and stole second; Allen made a long drive to left and the "Kid" went around the bases like a whirlwind finally landing on the home plate, after an ineffectual throw to Ashenback, calculated to retire him Allen stole second but on a beautiful run to third was thrown out. Thackara and Cranston fanned, Warren and Stewart having singled to left and past second in the meantime.

Ashenback's boys got their run in the ninth on a long drive for three bags to deep centre with a hot liner over second by Sechrist after High and Diesel had flown out to left and first. Weddige made the last out by being thrown out from left by Allen to first.

Following is the tabulated score and summary:

Notes of the Games.

A commendable feature of the Wilmington team is the good feeling existing among the members. There are no petty jealousies among them, and they always speak well of each other.

Stewart is improving in his curves, and before the season is over he will rank with the best pitchers in the league.

The "Shipbuilders" received generous applause yesterday on their good plays. This is as it should be. Nothing is lost by courtesy to our visitors.

Ashenback is a whole team within himself. He has the grand stand already, and will make a bid for the bleachers to day. He is good natured and generous to a fault. It is refreshing to see him play—when he is losing.

There are no stolen bases on Thackara. His work yesterday in throwing out the Shipbuilders at second will probably teach them a lesson in succeeding games.

Some of the Virginian-Pilot's observations of Saturday's game with Norfolk are as follows:

"Wilmington certainly has a strong aggregation and the team that beats them will know they have been playing ball."

"Vorhees, who twirled for the Wilmington aggregation, had a horse shoe concealed about him somewhere, for while he sent them up over the plate as big as balloons, the Norfolk men could not hit them safely. He received very clever support and won."

The Portsmouth Athletic Association, with Winfield Clark manager, is now at the back of the team from that city and has plenty of money. The team is to be strengthened at once and put on a winning basis.

In the loss of the game by King Kelley's red birds on their home diamond yesterday, the Raleigh team ties Wilmington for third place in the per centage column. Another game from Newport News to-day ought to put the Giants at second place.

Portsmouth showed yesterday in its shut out of Richmond that she is bound to come sooner or later. The Brownies no longer bring up the rear in the per centage column.

The game to day will be well worth the seeing. The Newport News aggregation is now reported to be even a stronger team than Norfolk, Nelson having left the last named club Saturday night, and the really close games this week may be depended upon to come from Ashenback and his clever players from the shipbuilding town.

At Portsmouth—

PORTSMOUTH, VA., May 6.—The locals to-day took the game from Barley Kain's kids by a score of 8 to 0, thereby crawling up one position in the per centage column and relegating Richmond to that undesirable end, from which it has been so hard for Portsmouth to merge with its badly broken up team.

MRS. MARY LEGWIN.

Death of An Aged and Highly Respected Lady in East Wilmington Yesterday. The Funeral To-day.

Numerous friends in Wilmington heard with profound sorrow yesterday morning of the death of Mrs. Mary LeGwin, relict of the late John F. LeGwin, which occurred at 11:05 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law Mr. R. W. Smith, at his place, "Oak Hill," in East Wilmington.

Mrs. LeGwin has been in ill health for some time but death was hastened by a recent very severe attack of la grippe from which she never finally recovered. She was born near Scott's Hill, N. C., January 31st, 1821 and was therefore in the 81st year of her age. She had spent most of her life in Wilmington and has many very near friends here, who regret her sad demise and the sore bereavement suffered by the family. She connected herself early with the church and her life was devoted to Christianity. She was the oldest member of Fifth Street M. E. Church, of this city, and the remains, after the funeral at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. H. A. Donnelly, will be taken there and thence to Bellevue cemetery for interment.

Mrs. Legwin is survived by four children—Mrs. H. A. Donnelly, Mrs. R. W. Smith and Mr. L. M. LeGwin, of Wilmington, and Mrs. W. H. Jarman, of Jacksonville, N. C, all of whom have the tenderest sympathy of many friends.

A Marooning Party.

A marooning party, chaperoned by Mrs. George P. Cotchett, at the Northrop cottage, on Wrightsville, was much enjoyed by a number of young society people from Saturday last until yesterday morning. Among those composing the party were Misses Octavia Boatwright, Leonora Cantwell, Eliza French, Carrie Wright, Katie Maffit, Olive Armstrong, Nessie Cotchett and Emma Northrop; Messrs. W. C. and G. D. Crow, Dawson Latham, Croswell Ragin, Marsden Bellamy, Jr., Creth Angel, O. A. Wiggins, Jr., George Davis and Jas. G. Cotchett.

A LENGTHY SESSION.

Board of Aldermen in Session Last Night to the Morning Hour.

SEWERAGE QUESTION AGAIN.

Provoked Lively Discussion, But Went Over to Special Meeting To-morrow Night—Policemen Elected and Salaries Were Restored.

It was morning when last night's regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen adjourned; and the adjournment then was to Wednesday night when the multitude of matters for consideration will be further acted upon.

Perhaps the most spirited discussion during the meeting last night was in regard to the granting of the franchise to the Wilmington Sewerage Company for the establishment of a system of sewerage in the city according to plans recently approved by the county and State boards of health. The matter came up under head of the report of the Sewerage Committee, Alderman Bailey, chairman, and invoked quite an animated discussion, after which the matter was left over to the special meeting to morrow night. Alderman Bailey asked the delay as he said he desired further times for more thorough research into the plans and specifications. A letter from Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy, attorney for the corporation, was read and Mr. Bellamy also addressed the board at some length. Dr. George G. Thomas, president of the State Board of Health, also spoke favorably of the plans, as did City Engineer Jos. H. McRee and Major Ives and Col. Lewis of the Sewerage Company. Members of the Board also discussed the question at some length but decided to postpone action as stated.

All members of the Board were present, Mayor Waddell presiding. Communications from the Board of Audit and Finance stated that the appropriation for the establishment of a municipal scavenger system had not been approved for the reason that it was not considered practicable. Upon motion of Alderman Harriss the Sanitary Committee of the Aldermen was requested to appear before the Finance Board and urge the appropriation, explaining its desirable and economical features.

Concurrence by the Finance Board in the proposition to sell the Fifth Ward Hook and Ladder building was reported, provided the property brought as much as $1,300. Upon strong appeals of Aldermen Parker and Mann the Aldermen rescinded their original action in ordering the sale of the property, the same to be used in the future for rental. It was also reported that the Finance Board approved the recent action of the Aldermen authorizing the treasurer to turn over to the city attorney the back tax books, provided same is amended authorizing Iredell Meares, Esq., to be retained in all suits in which pleadings were filed prior to April 1st, 1901. The Finance Board also inquired in a communication why the contract for feeding prisoners had been awarded to Mrs. Jane Sheehan at ten cents per meal when there was a bid for nine cents. The Board requested the Mayor to explain that Mrs. Sheehan had long filled the contract with eminent satisfaction and her bid was considered the lowest, taking all circumstances into consideration. Upon a suggestion in the same communication the Streets and Wharves Committee was asked to inquire into the recent successful bid of the Cowan Livery Company as to whether it provided for a sheltering of the city carts, etc., as was stipulated in the bid of Mr. S. J. Davis, the next highest.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the usual loan of $40,000 to tide the city over the Summer months, when taxes are slow in coming in.

The Market Committee was requested to look into the claim for damages of Ellis Bufarro, a tenant in the Front street market house.

Chief—John J. Furlong.

Captain—N. J. Williams.

Sergeants—G. H. Ward, C. S. Burnett, G. W. Smith, C. W. Woolard.

Privates—M. E. Guy, H. H. Woebse, John Martin, C. E. Ward, E. L. Smith, W. C. Moore, Alex. Wells, Dave Willis, E. J. Grimsley, Frank George, Leon George, J. J. Moore, W. M. Harris, W. E. Watson, Moses Padrick, E. R. Chadwick, B. R. King, I. F. Huggins, John Meier, J. B. Newkirk, W. H. Temple, E. Skipper, Rufus Holmes, Woody Howell, L. M. Smith, Dan George, J. M. King.

Subs—J. D. McClammy, 1st; S. J. Bryan, 2d; M. Bowen, 3d.

Upon motion of Alderman Johnson it was recommended that street hands and cart drivers receive $7 per week compensation; upon motion of Alderman West, that the city attorney's salary be restored to $500; upon motion of Maunder and amendment by Parker, that the cattle weigher's salary be made $30 per month; upon motion of Parker that Alderman Harriss and the Mayor appear before the Board and ask that the salary of the Chief of Police be restored to $1,200 per year; upon motion of Johnson, that the salary of permanent health officers be made $45 per month, instead of $40; upon suggestion of the Mayor, Bailey and others, that street hands working in sewers receive $1 per day extra.

Mayor Waddell and Alderman Bailey stated that according to a strict interpretation of the law the street paving in the future must be let by contract and the Mayor stated that he had been served with notice that if the municipality undertook further work in this direction, the city would be enjoined. The matter went to the Streets and Wharves Committee.

Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy asked permission to further address the Board and stated that the plan of the proposed new sewerage system will be on exhibition to day at the office of Capt. J. H. McRee, city engineer, for the inspection of any person who desires to examine the specifications.

Upon motion of Alderman Parker it was decided to persist in its recommendations as originally made as to the turning over of the back tax books to City Attorney Bellamy.

Petitions from various citizen were referred to the Streets and Wharves Committee as follows: From citizens of Third and Fifth wards that Dock from Seventh to Ninth street be macadamized from curb to curb; from citizens and tax payers that Orange between Front and Sixth streets be improved; upon suggestion of Alderman Parker that an open cistern on Castle between Sixth and Seventh streets be looked after; from committee of property owners and citizens that Second between Market and Castle streets be macadamized; upon suggestion of Alderman Maunder and petitions of various citizens, that a bridge be built over Fifth street crossing of the A. C. L. tracks and that a committee be appointed to confer with the railroad authorities relative to a joint ownership (committee named as Messrs. Maunder, Skinner and Harriss.

A resolution was adopted as the sense of the board, that Princess street be the next thoroughfare improved. The mayor stated in this connection that he learned from the County Commissioners that they would bear their pro rata share of the cost of this improvement.

It was ordered that the city attorney attend the daily sessions of the municipal court and conduct the prosecution of such cases as come before the mayor.

The mayor stated that he would take into consideration a suggestion by Alderman Bailey that two other members be placed on the Streets and Wharves Committee.

E. J. Pollard, agent of the Schlitz Brewing Company, was granted license to wholesale malt liquors; application of Frank B. Brown to retail liquor on Campbell street was denied upon adverse report of a special committee of investigation.

After four ballots Capt. A. L. DeRossett was appointed tax lister for the current year. Other applicants were G. D. Parsley, W. A. Williams and T. O. Bunting.

The Fire Committee was authorized to lease a fire lighter for use on the river until permanent arrangements can be made.

No Judgment Against Mr. McDiarmid.

In its report of the proceedings of the U. S. Court Friday, the STAR in mentioning the case of the Cape Fear Lumber Company against Cottingham left the inference that Messrs. W. J. Diarmid & Co., of Fayetteville, were parties to the judgment against defendant for $6,000. This is incorrect. There is no judgment against Mr. McDiarmid in the case.

Revival Meetings.

The Schoolfield meeting is now in progress at Grace M. E. church and is being well attended. Services are held each day at 10:30 A. M. and 8 P. M.

Rev. O. L. Stringfield, of Raleigh, is assisting Rev. J. J. Payseur, the pastor, with a series of revival meetings which also begun at that church Sunday.

Strawberry Shipments.

Between twenty-five and thirty cars of strawberries went forward by Southern and Fruit Growers' Express yesterday from the trucking section contiguous to Wilmington. The prices are holding up fairly well and growers appear to be pleased with the prospect for the season. The regular schedule of refrigerator car trains was put into effect yesterday.

— Mr. F. T. Mills left last night for Kentucky and will return the latter part of the week with several car loads of very fine stock, which will be offered for sale at his Princess street stables.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 7.

TURNING ATTENTION TO SOUTH AMERICA.

For some years European Governments have been establishing colonies in South and Central America. Germany, Italy and France all have colonies there and they are adding to them from year to year. It is said that the German colonies in Brazil are a close corporation, do not have much to do socially with the natives, and that the German language is about the only one heard in the sections where they are located. Although it has been said that the Germans in Brazil have had more or less to say about the politics of that country, the home governments of colonists have not had anything to say about it, doubtless for the reason that they have had something else to attend to and the colonists are not yet numerous enough to be a potent factor in shaping politics. But with the increase in numbers every year, in these days of commercial expansion and territory grabbing how long will these colonists be content to remain silent and have nothing to say about the government of the countries in which they live?

Suppose the colonists, with their superior intelligence, energy and thrift, become large owners of landed estates and other property and gain a dominating influence, what then? Perhaps Germany and some of the other Powers have taken the hint from the object lesson presented by Hawaii, where a few thousand Americans, with the moral support of the administration at Washington, overthrew the monarchy and established a Republic, and if they have, what then? Why shouldn't Germans, if they are numerous enough, plan and work for a government in Brazil to suit them just as those Americans planned and worked for a government in Hawaii to suit them?

Speaking of these colonies and the way they have been increasing, the New York Sun remarks that the home Governments have not been able to extend their authority over them "for the United States stands ready to enforce the rule, 'No colonizing will be allowed on this continent.'" But colonizing has been allowed on this continent and is going on now and more of it will be done in the future. The Sun is simply indulging in a little bit of bluster. There may be people who believe this country could fight and whip all creation, but they belong to the weak-minded class. That kind of people think because Dewey knocked holes into and sank those Spanish boats in Manila bay, and our ships at Santiago ran down and took those flying Spanish vessels, we are a match for the navies of the world. A great many of these same people were trembling in their shoes in the first days of the Spanish war lest some Spanish warships run along our coast and attacked our seaport cities. It was some time, too, before they got over the uncomfortable apprehension.

We are not disposed to underrate the prowess or resources of the people of this country, who on land and sea are equals of any people on the earth but for all that we might be outmatched and outnumbered by a combination of nations if not by a single nation. Such combinations we may be or may not be compelled to meet in the future but if we do it will probably be about the Monroe Doctrine which the Sun had in mind when it said the United States would allow no colonizing on this continent.

Up to this time the European governments have tacitly accepted the Monroe Doctrine, because it didn't affect them much, and they were not materially interested in it. There was in Africa, in the islands of the seas, and in Asia territory enough for them to exploit, for some time. This country was keeping on this side of the ocean, and not showing any disposition to cross the seas and plant its institutions in the other hemisphere. These Governments may now pertinently ask if this country can colonize in the Eastern hemisphere and plant its institutions there, why cannot European Governments colonize in the Western hemisphere and plant their institutions in that? Wouldn't a question like that be pertinent and hard to answer?

The inspiration behind the Monroe Doctrine was that this hemisphere was dedicated to liberty and self-government, and no power should be permitted to get such a foothold as might put the liberty and self-government in jeopardy. It substantially said to the monarchies of the old world, "You have your forms of government over there. We do not propose to meddle with them. We have our forms of government on this side, and you must not meddle with them." This was the essence of the Monroe Doctrine—hands off. Their hands off our hemisphere, our hands off theirs. When we crossed the Pacific, put our clamps on the Philippines and asserted sovereignty over them, it was practically a nullification of the spirit of the Monroe Doctrine.

This is the view taken of it by foreign nations, and this will be one of the contentions should objection be made by this Government to colonizing in this hemisphere. To say that we conquered and bought the Philippines will not be an answer, for they might reply that they could buy and conquer, too. As far as the argument is concerned they would have about as much or more of it on their side than we have on ours. The nations of the earth will simply refuse to recognize the binding force of a doctrine which this country uses only for its own benefit and ignores when it becomes its interest to ignore it. We may have to fight for that doctrine yet, and when we do it will not be with a played out country like Spain.

MONEY IN FURNITURE.

That there is money in the furniture business in North Carolina is shown by the rapid increase in the number of manufactories in the central part of State, where they all seem to be doing a prosperous business. High Point leads with a half dozen or more factories, while there are one or more in a dozen towns along the Southern railroad and its connections.

Some of them manufacture one kind and some another. Some bedsteads, some tables, some chairs, some lounges, etc., each devoting itself to some special line. But High Point, the center of the industry, and where it has had the most thorough trial, is spreading out and is to have a $100,000 plant, under the management of a man who has had much experience in the furniture business and was one of the original venturers in it at that place. The fact that he is willing to back a $100,000 venture is proof enough that the business in that town is on a solid basis.

These enterprises are good things not only for the towns where they are located, where they put a good deal of money into circulation in wages paid and for lumber, but they bring a good deal of money from the outside to add to the wealth and help build up the towns. But they also enhance the value of timber and thus add to the value of the surrounding lands, and make the owners of timber appreciate it more and take better care of it.

Much of the furniture manufactured in these towns is shipped North and West, to the States from which not many years ago nearly all the furniture used in this country came, and from which yet comes about all of the finer kinds. There is no reason why with the experience acquired in the business, the variety of woods growing in our forests, hard and soft, the finest kind of furniture might not be made here as well as the cheap and common kinds. But we suppose our furniture makers have been feeling their way and will branch out and go up higher when they can see their way clear.

Why not start the business in Wilmington? With the timber resources of this section and the facilities for transportation by water and rail this should be an ideal point for it.

PLANNING FOR A COALING STATION.

The Emperor of Germany seems to have his eye on one of the Venezuelan islands (Maugherita), near the mouth of the Orinoco river, with a good harbor for a coaling station. A German war vessel has spent several weeks prospecting and it is said that the one selected is in such a position as to command the entrance to the Nicaragua canal. This has caused considerable talk in this country, because Germany has been doing some colonizing in Brazil, and doesn't take very kindly to the Monroe Doctrine, which Bismarck characterized as a piece of "arrogant impudence."

This talk seems to have attracted attention in Germany, and therefore the New York Herald has been made the medium to assure the American people, from an "authoritative source," that Germany entertains no hostile feeling towards this country, and that in seeking coaling stations, and increasing her navy she has not had her eye on this country at all. This may be so, but denials like this amount to nothing, for, of course, it would be part of the game to allay suspicion in this country and go on with the scheme of securing harbors where German warships might be massed in the event they were needed on this side of the Atlantic.

Whatever the relations between these two nations may be now, they might be very quickly changed when interests might conflict, especially when Germany shows a disposition to discriminate against American products, and the Emperor is one of the most assertive and aggressive rulers in Europe. The idea is growing in Europe that South and Central America are good fields for exploiting, and it is growing nowhere more rapidly than in Germany.

Some of the people out in Illinois who counted much on Governor Yates, the son of the War Governor, are getting on a large sized disgust. One of the first things he did was to appoint a brother to one of the most lucrative offices in the State, and two maladorous politicians to important positions.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Tarboro Southerner: The freight receipts here for Western corn tell unmistakably how short the corn crop in the county was last year. Too much land in cotton this year will make it again short. The greatest prosperity this county ever enjoyed was always when its corn crib was filled from its own field.

— Greenville Reflector: Friday night two white men, Ed. Telfair and Charles Frizzle, came to Greenville with a horse and put up the team at the Greenville Livery Co.'s stables. This morning a telephone message came to the police from Tarboro, giving a discription of the men and instructing that they be arrested on the charge of stealing the horse and buggy. Policemen Smith and Dudley arrested them and placed them in the lockup to await the arrival of the owner of the team. Both the men were under the influence of whiskey.

— Charlotte Observer: An Observer man was informed that Crossland & Everett, two of the largest farmers in Richmond county, will have to replant over 300 acres of corn. The recent heavy rains ruined the corn already planted. From conversations held with a number of Mecklenburg farmers yesterday it is inferred that those of them who have not planted corn are in a bad plight and will probably have to replant. It was estimated that one-third of the corn planted in the Belmont section will have to be replanted, and other parts of the country have fared equally bad. Added to this unwelcome condition, both cotton and corn seed are scarce. To make the agricultural condition a dilemma it is said that the cotton planters don't want rain, which is much needed for corn planting.

— Charlotte News: John Weddington, a colored Baptist preacher, who was also a convict, created an excitement on the Carolina Central train Friday night by jumping through a window of the coach when the train was nearing Charlotte, and making his escape. Weddington was sent up for four months for larceny, at Rutherford county court. He had been hired out as a convict to Union county, and was being taken to Monroe by Deputy Sheriff Putnam, of Rutherford county. The negro was handcuffed, and was tied to the seat. He did the Anna Eva Fay act and got loose from the seat. He then jumped through the window which was open in the seat which he was occupying. Officer Putnam saw him strike the ground, get up and stagger as if hurt. The train was stopped as quickly as possible, but the negro had regained himself, and though handcuffed had run like a deer and was out of sight.

—— The farmers were turning loose cotton Friday. They are afraid of a further decline. Mr John O. Alexander sold cotton for 8 cents that was stored when the price was ten cents.

— Raleigh Post: Governor Aycock yesterday pardoned Will Morgan, who was sentenced from Mecklenburg to serve a four years' term for highway robbery. He has already served one year of his term. Morgan, who was an illiterate country boy, was led into the crime committed by an old offender in Charlotte, so statements were made to the Governor by reputable people. The chief offender in the crime escaped, but has since fallen in the meshes of the law. It is said that Morgan's previous record was good. His pardon was urged by the solicitor who convicted him and by a large number of people in Mecklenburg. His aunt came to Raleigh and saw the Governor in his behalf. —— Sylvanus Holding, an ex-Confederate soldier, formerly of Wilmington, was found dead in a little one-room house on South street, near the Washington graded school Saturday morning. The deceased was 65 years old. He was an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at one time. Later, he was a patient in the Central Hospital, and since leaving there he has rented the small house in which he died. He was seen Thursday night, but not making his appearance to day, the chief of police was 'phoned for, the house entered and Mr. Holding found dead. The L. O'B. Branch Camp of Confederate Veterans took charge of the body, and it was carried to the Soldiers' Home for interment.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Unless there shall be a check to the mania for speculation that has reached so violent a stage at the New York Stock Exchange the lunatic asylums will soon share in the general prosperity of the country.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—— Judging from some remarks made by the President in one of his speeches delivered since starting on his tour across the continent, the subsidy bill is to be brought forward again next winter, and the influences behind it are so vast that it would not be surprising if it should be passed. If the Republican leaders have their way the American people will be taxed to assist millionaire ship owners and ship builders.—Savannah News, Dem.

—— The insolent assumption of John D. Rockefeller that the wages paid by his Oil Trust during the past thirty years were a "gift to labor," has caused great amusement among those who are prompt to see the humorous side of things, and aroused the indignation of the seriousminded. But, all know that without labor Rockefeller's money would have produced nothing, and that his "gift" was merely an exchange of money for labor, and not a fair exchange on his part at that, if the truth were known.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— President McKinley as an off-hand orator "on tour," has not been excelled by more than two or three of our eminent men. Harrison was his superior, perhaps the superior of any man of his generation. Greeley made forty speeches in fifteen days, in 1872, never spoke less than thirty minutes, never repeated himself and his addresses displayed great originality, brilliancy and vigor of thought and style. That last splendid flashing forth of a mighty intellect has never been even approached, in this or any other country.—Chattanooga Times, Ind.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. NOT HEREDITARY

In the main, consumption is not hereditary; it is infectious. People are too afraid of heredity; better not think of the subject at all. Infection occurs continually.

Low vital force is hereditary; which gives consumption its chance. And infection plants it.

Between the two, the crop is a big one: about one-sixth of the human race, so far as is known.

We suppose it needn't be 5 per cent, if people would take fair care and Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

The care saves life in all ways; the emulsion is specially aimed at the lungs, beside its general food-effect.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

TWINKLINGS.

— It is now said that poultry talks. If it does, ten to one the hens never tell their real age when claiming to be spring chickens.

An Uneven Contest.

"They had a lively boxing match at Splinter's the other night."

"How was that?"

"Splinter came home late, and as he passed through the hall his wife's tallest palm touched him on the cheek. Splinter was in an excited condition and thought it was somebody's fingers. So he struck out wildly with both fists and succeeded in knocking over two palms and severely bumping his own head."

"But why do you call it a boxing match?"

"Because Splinter put up his knuckles against his wife's palms."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Why His Life Was a Failure.

"Yes, I consider my life a failure."

WAS IT HAUNTED?

BY BARRY PAIN.

My name is James Leonardus Stoke. To this I might append certain letters indicative of academic distinctions, but—and I say it with all modesty—it may be enough to refer to my work, my studies of primitive peoples, and more especially my tract on the "Origin of the Aleutians." My controversy on this point with Professor Pumpernickel of Heidelberg may be remembered. It attracted some attention in the learned world at the time.

Some months ago I was in London for the purpose of research at the museum. During my stay I saw for the first time a typewriter and was greatly impressed with its usefulness. My own handwriting is perhaps a little illegible to those who are not used to it. Indeed I have always supposed that this is the reason for the omission of several communications that I have made from time to time to the editor of The Times newspaper. My wife has also taken this view. I now purchased a typewriter to prevent such accidents in future. It was a second-hand machine. I have since found out that it came from the office of The Merry Jester, a weekly paper of—I am given to understand—a humorous character. It is important to notice this in view of the extraordinary incident that I am about to relate. For the rest the machine was in excellent condition, the paper which originally owned it only having been in existence for six weeks.

With six lessons and a few months' practice I found that I was practically master of the machine. I will not say that I was able to type any extravagant number of words in a minute, and indeed accuracy rather than rapidity has always been my aim, but I was able to transcribe my manuscript at a pace that satisfied my needs. I made a point of typing everything, even signing my letters in the typed character. My usual signature is particularly illegible. To alter it would possibly occasion trouble at my bank; to leave it as it is means that editors neglect contributions from my pen which they would be glad to use if they only had the usual assurance as to their bona fides.

For some weeks I found nothing abnormal or worthy of remark about the machine. It did at first seem to have a tendency to print one line on the top of another, but there the fault was probably in the operator. Its manifestations of a preternatural order only commenced shortly after the return of my boy Charles from his tutor's. Charles is at present being prepared for the army by the Rev. William Doddersley, who receives a limited number of pupils. Curiously enough, he has not inherited even in a small degree his father's love of learning. He has, moreover, a tendency to turn everything into idle jest—a tendency which I deplore and find absolutely unaccountable. Neither his mother nor I suffer in the least in this way.

One day I was at my typewriter and began to transcribe an article on "The Early Civilization of the Chinese" which I had intended for publication. The article began as follows:

"Before entering upon a full consideration of the subject indicated in the title of this article one prefatory remark must be made. It is this."

I had typed so far when I happened to notice through the window that the fowls had got out, and I left my work to speak to the gardener about it. While in the garden I thought I heard the typewriter clicking, but dismissed the idea as absurd. However, I found on my return to my room that my article had been mysteriously continued as follows:

"Hearing so much about the capabilities of Billy Smiles of Wandsworth, the undersigned would be glad to meet him any night with three weeks' notice if any gent will give a purse."

I was unable myself to find any sense in this, but Charles, who for once in his life seemed serious, said that it looked like a prizefighter's challenge. But how did it get there? Is it possible that the machine was operated in some mysterious manner by the personality of its original owner? Being the editor of a humorous paper, he might, if in telepathic sympathy with the machine, find pleasure in introducing incongruous matter into a learned and dignified article. Incongruity, I find on consulting the authorities, is a factor in the production of a humorous effect.

My next experience was far more serious. I had written a long letter to the Rev. William Doddersley with regard to Charles, regretting the boy's levity and inclination to idleness, of which Mr. Doddersley had complained, and thanking the reverend gentleman in warm terms for all the care and trouble that he was taking with my son. I typed the letter in the morning, left the sheet on the machine and went out for my usual walk. On returning, I took the sheet off the machine without further examining it, put it in an envelope and posted it myself. The letter was sent back to me by Mr. Doddersley with a note saying that he had received it, but could not believe that it really came from me. He was right. It was a typewritten letter with my name at the bottom of it, but it was certainly not the letter that I composed myself. I alluded to Mr. and Mrs. Doddersley in the most familiar and disrespectful terms. With reference to Charles it said: "My son's a mighty fine chap, though not appreciated at home. The rectory beer is particularly poor and should be changed for a better quality. In that case I think it would be advisable to have recourse to it about 11 in the morning, thus making a pleasant change from your rotten quadratics." I was also made to say that I thought not enough time was given to golf and that I was sorry the girls in the neighborhood were not prettier.

This was inexpressibly shocking to me, and I wrote to Mr. Doddersley at once to say so. But in this case again there seems to me to be an attempt at humor—in the worst possible taste, but still an attempt—and I cannot help remembering that the former owner of my typewriter was the editor of a humorous paper.

Are any similar instances on record? The point seems to me to be worth examination.—Black and White.

A Strange Wild Plant.

There is a strange wild plant in Guadeloupe called the "life plant." If a leaf be broken off and pinned by the stem to the wall of a warm room, each of the angles between the curves of the leaf margin soon throws out a number of very white tentacles, or roots, and soon a tiny new plant begins to sprout and in the course of a week or two attains a height of two or three inches. When the old leaf shrivels, the new plant is cut off and planted. When carefully cultivated, the life plant produces curious red and yellow blossoms.

The tip of the tongue is chiefly sensible to pungent and acid tastes, the middle portion to sweets and bitters, while the back is confined entirely to the flavors of roast meats and fatty substances.

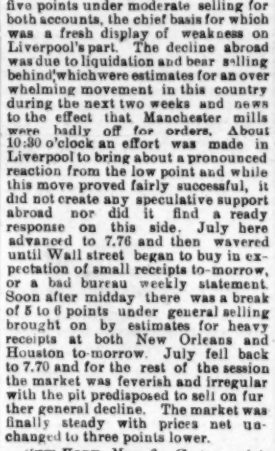
The Action of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is Primarily and Mainly Exerted upon Uric Acid and the Urates. It Disintegrates and Eliminates Calculus of the Kidney or Bladder, Uric Acid, Phosphatic and Oxalic. Its Modus Operandi in Such Cases, and Special Value in All Uric Acid Poisoning.

Dr. J. W. Mallet, Professor of Chemistry, University of Virginia, extract from report of analysis of Calculi discharged by patients under the action of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER Spring No. 2:

"It seems on the whole probable that the action of the water is PRIMARILY and MAINLY EXERTED upon URIC ACID and the URATES, but when these constituents occur along with and as cementing matter to Phosphatic or Oxalic Calculus materials the latter may be so detached and broken down as to disintegrate the Calculus as a whole in these cases, also thus admitting of Urethral discharge."

Dr. C. H. Davis, of Meriden, Conn., reports in New England Medical Monthly: "Mr. R. L. Roys, of this city, consulted me about two years ago for Stone in the Bladder, from which he had been suffering for years. On my suggestion, he commenced the use of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER, as he was very much opposed to operative interference. After using the Water a short time, disintegration to a certain extent took place and large quantities of stone were passed. For several days in succession he passed as much as a teaspoonful of the debris, and at intervals for a considerable period he passed large quantities, and under the continued use of the Water there was a constant passage of Calculi until he was entirely relieved."



The photograph herewith is a correct representation and exact size of some of the largest specimens of Calculi discharged by Mr. Roys. A chemical and microscopical analysis showed that they are URIC ACID with a trace of Oxalate of Lime.

The theory here announced by Dr. Mallet, that the action of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is primarily and mainly exerted upon URIC ACID and the URATES, explains its ofttimes marvelous power both as a REMEDY and PREVENTIVE in Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, and all conditions caused by excess of URIC ACID in the blood.

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is for sale by Grocers and Druggists generally.

The interrupted speculative advance was renewed to day with great violence, the speculative holders of stocks apparently having been entirely reassured by the check to the reaction which was achieved on Saturday. The urgent selling which was in evidence Friday afternoon not only on the part of forced sellers whose loans had been called or whose margins have been wiped out, but of those who feared that they would be, was entirely lacking this morning.

The total sales of stocks to day were 2,232,100 shares.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Shorts and longs controlled the cotton market by turns to-day with the bears holding the better position at the close. Prices followed a very irregular course, the near months being particularly sensitive to news and orders as received. The opening call developed an easy undertone with prices down one to five points under moderate selling for both accounts, the chief basis for which was a fresh display of weakness on Liverpool's part. The decline abroad was due to liquidation and bear selling behind which were estimates for an over whelming movement in this country during the next two weeks and news to the effect that Manchester mills were badly off for orders. About 10:30 o'clock an effort was made in Liverpool to bring about a pronounced reaction from the low point and while this move proved fairly successful, it did not create any speculative support abroad nor did it find a ready response on this side. July here advanced to 7.76 and then wavered until Wall street began to buy in expectation of small receipts to-morrow, or a bad bureau weekly statement. Soon after midday there was a break of 5 to 6 points under general selling brought on by estimates for heavy receipts at both New Orleans and Houston to-morrow. July fell back to 7.70 and for the rest of the session the market was feverish and irregular with the pit predisposed to sell on further general decline. The market was finally steady with prices net unchanged to three points lower.

MISTAKES IN FARMING.

Everyday Problems and Some Suggestions About Meeting Them.

In a consideration in American Agriculturist of mistakes in farming and how to avoid them Professor Butz of Pennsylvania mentions it as common among farmers to permit weeds to control a portion of the farm. He says: Here is an acre under the perfect sway of the Canada thistle, there is one yielded up to the docks and another to wild carrot or oxeye daisy. The acres thus controlled, yielding nothing, cut directly into the profit of the farm. Now, if it pays to clear abandoned woodland of its brush and stumps and stones for farming purposes, then surely if necessary it would pay to put a force of men upon an acre of docks to clear it of these pernicious weeds. Every weed patch, like every brush patch and stone pile, is an expense to a farm so long as it is given place. We pay taxes upon it, fence it, often mow it and plow it, but it returns nothing to us.

The wasteful custom, handed down from our fathers, of accumulating heaps of manure in the barnyard, to be hauled out once a year, is such an enormous mistake that the folly of it should be reiterated until every farmer is convinced that he must adopt the modern practice in his farm economy. Let him follow this line of thought in reference to it. Manure possesses plant food that is directly available to plants. To be available the plant food must be soluble in water. If soluble in water, then every rain that falls upon the manure heap must take out a portion of the valuable plant food, and the drainage of the barnyard must receive it, never to be restored. There is never more plant food in manure than at the time it is made, and therefore the sooner it reaches the fields the better, so that the soil may directly absorb what the rains dissolve from it. This line of thought will also indicate the folly of putting the manure on the land in small heaps, to be scattered just before plowing. The spots on which the manure rested will be enriched at the expense of the remainder of the land.

In the last quarter of a century the practice of using commercial fertilizers has become a new custom in practical agriculture, yet it is surprising how many farmers disregard the analysis of the fertilizer when making a purchase. A farmer will exercise great care in selecting the variety of wheat he will plant, knowing there are hundreds of varieties, all good perhaps, but only one kind being best for his soil and climate. There are 400 varieties of fertilizers placed before the farmers of Pennsylvania each year, and the analyses show the characters of each variety. To choose a fertilizer intelligently we must consider its analysis before we ask its name or price. Then if our land needs more phosphoric acid and potash and less nitrogen we can avoid the mistake of buying an expensive plant food that is worse than useless upon our farm.

A very prevalent mistake in this state is the custom of planting orchards in sod and thus forcing the trees to grow or exist by whatever chance will favor them. The trees we plant have been reared in a nursery on land that has been highly fertilized and persistently tilled with plow and cultivator. Cultivation releases plant food in the soil and conserves moisture, hence favors the growth of trees when practiced among them. The present generation of farmers and orchardists probably never experienced a more persistent drought than that of the past season, and while apples were dropping and foliage on their trees yellowing in August, where orchards stood in grass I saw orchards under cultivation in which the trees were laden with fruit and clothed with the richest green foliage. To my mind there is no greater mistake made about a commercial orchard than that of neglecting its annual tillage.

Traveling as I do over Pennsylvania, I am surprised to see how commonly orchards are neglected in regard to pruning. The tops of trees are veritable thickets of brush, half dead, half alive, but weak. It is apparent that the health of the tree depends upon proper pruning, that the quality of the fruit is influenced by the thinning of branches, that the color of the fruit is developed only in light, and the convenience of picking alone should invite us into the trees with knife and saw.

Agricultural Brevities.

Growing Brussels sprouts promises to become quite an industry. An increasing market and good profits are claimed.

Horse radish is generally dug in December. The large roots are trimmed and cleaned for market, and the smaller branches are reserved for sets for spring planting.

Sugar beet pulp is gaining favor as food for cows in New York state. They will readily eat from 50 to 100 pounds per day.

A Rural New Yorker correspondent tells that after trying to break up a tough sod with an ordinary plow and spoiling several harrows on it, he sent south for a "mule" plow, which he found just the thing for tearing up tough turf and cheap, considering about a dozen different points come with it.

Much is heard nowadays about "school gardens" for children—that is, a plot of ground near the school, where cabbage, potatoes and useful vegetables and fruits in general are grown and instruction given in gardening. Many German, French and Swedish towns have these schools.

Reports are that the maple tree worm has met with an insect enemy which will reduce its numbers next season.

Dahlias and Bees.

The dahlia is deservedly a favorite flower in most country districts nowadays. A row of brilliant red dahlias on either side of the garden walk is charming and effective. The flower, too, deserves our esteem in that it blooms when most of the good things of summer are hastening to decay. We do not hear beekeepers telling stories against the dahlia nowadays, but it was decidedly a suspect in former days. Authorities held that the cultivation of the dahlia was quite incompatible with successful beekeeping. The bees, it used to be said, were rendered drunk and incapable by feeding on the honey of those flowers. Some would die from the effects, while those that recovered made little or no honey when they arrived home at the hive.—London Express.

He Cleared Out.

"I have come, sir," said the English nobleman condescendingly, "to ask your daughter in marriage."

"Indeed!" replied the hard featured American papa. "Practically you want my daughter and her fortune, giving your title in exchange. Isn't that all?"

"Well—er—if you put it that way, yes. Is not my title more than sufficient to"—

"No, I want something to boot, and if you don't clear out you'll be that something."—Catholic Standard and Times.

How He Explained It.

"Do you know where your husband's society lodge rooms are?"

"No, but I have reason to believe they are at the top of one of the down town skyscrapers. At any rate he told me he dreamed about them last night, and I distinctly heard him mutter, "Too high for me. I pass out."—Chicago Post.

The Tripod of Agriculture.

Commercial fertilizers contain a variety of substances, but only three of such importance that the farmer can afford to buy them at the prices charged for concentrated manures, according to Dr. R. C. Kedzie, who says: They often contain lime, magnesia, silica, oxide of iron, sulphates, chlorides, etc., many of these of value as manures, but they can be bought for less money than is charged for the commercial fertilizers. The fertilizers may contain all these, but we buy them because they contain in addition one or more of three materials—viz, potash, phosphoric acid and active nitrogen. It is the presence of these materials that gives commercial value to fertilizers. If the dealer boasts that his manure also contains alumina, silica, oxide of iron, lime and magnesia, the sufficient answer is that these materials make up the mass of all soils and that the farmer buys his land by the acre and not by the ton. The only manurial materials that a farmer can afford to buy at prices demanded for fertilizers are these three most necessary, most precious and most easily exhausted elements of plant growth, the tripod of agriculture. In the absence of any one of these three materials no plant can grow to perfection.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 7.

FAYETTEVILLE'S ELECTION.

Cook, Administration Democrat, Elected Mayor Over McNeill, Anti-Administration Candidate.

[Special Star Telegram.]

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., May 6.—The vote in the municipal election to day was: For Mayor—Cook, administration Democrat, 500; McNeill, anti-administration Democrat, 170; Underwood, Republican, 13. The full ticket, administration Democratic aldermen and audit and finance board, was elected.

A Bitter Contest.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., May 6.—The most bitter contest in the history of the city was fought at the polls to-day for the election of mayor, board of aldermen and board of audit and finance. There was great tension for several days over rumors of violence by the Anti-administration people, and when the polls were opened at sunrise there was a great crowd present. Bitter attacks had been made upon Mayor Cook and his administration, and from the time the polls were opened it was seen that the voters were determined to repudiate the Anti-administration committee and vindicate the mayor, board of aldermen and board of audit and finance. Senator Jas. D. McNeill headed the Anti administration, Mr. John Underwood the Republican, and Col. W. S. Cook, the Administration Democratic ticket. The result was a most complete vindication for Col. Cook and the boards of aldermen and audit and finance, as out of a total vote of six hundred and eighty-three Col. Cook received five hundred; Senator McNeill one hundred and seventy and Mr. Underwood thirteen. The Democratic ticket received three-fourths of the white voters and a majority of the colored vote, while Senator McNeill received but little over a hundred votes. The fight was really a continuation of the dispensary fight, inaugurated in the Legislature, and the result was an overwhelming victory in favor of morality, schools, law and order. H. EVE.

PRESIDENT AT EL PASO.

Thousands of Mexicans in the Great Gathering of People—President Diaz's Representative.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

EL PASO, TEX., May 6.—American and Mexican flags were intertwined in the decorations of the plaza where the official greeting of President McKinley and his cabinet took place this morning. The presence on the stand of General Hernandez, personal representative of President Diaz and the governor of the State of Chihuahua, gave an international significance to the event. There were thousands of Mexicans in the vast concourse of people to whom the President spoke, and their enthusiasm was almost as wild as that of the Americans.

General Hernandez addressed the President on behalf of his people, extending the latter's congratulations, and President McKinley, in his response paid a high tribute to the President of the Mexican republic and charged his emissary to convey to his chief his warm regard and personal esteem, with his best wishes for the continued prosperity of our sister republic. The President's speech was very happy, and was especially notable on account of an injunction to the people not to be alarmed abont "imperialism." There was, he said, no imperialism except in the imperial power of the sovereign people of the States.

The Governor of Chihuahua also warmly welcomed the President to the border. The exercises in the plaza were preceded by a military parade. The ladies of the cabinet crossed the Rio Grande to Jaurez, where they were tendered a breakfast by Juan Ochoa, a prominent Mexican banker. Mrs. McKinley did not attend the banquet, but enjoyed a short drive in the morning.

At noon the Presidential party resumed its journey westward.

NEW EVIDENCE FOUND.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 6.—The grand jury of Orangeburg county found an indictment to-day against Bartow Warren for robbing an express car of about $1,800 near Branchville on the Southern Railway in December 1899. A true bill was given out immediately after the robbesy was withdrawn. Meanwhile new evidence has strengthened the express company's case materially. Warren's trial begins on next Monday.

TEXTILE WORKERS.

THE SITUATION IN JACKSONVILLE.

Ten Military Companies Are Still On Duty to Prevent Vandalism.

SIX THOUSAND DESTITUTE.

The Work of Relief Proceeding Systematically—Car Loads of Supplies and Fifty Thousand Dollars Received. Estimate of Losses.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., May 6.—The body of Henry Bonnetheau, a real estate dealer, was recovered to-day from the St. John's river. Mr. Bonnetheau's widow and son are supposed to be in New York city. The bodies of two negroes were also recovered. All are victims of Friday's disastrous fire.

There are many rumors of further loss of life, but owing to the departure of thousands of people from the city, it will be impossible for several days to verify the reports unless the bodies are found.

Mayor Bowden to-day issued a request that all sight seers remain away from Jacksonville. It is feared that the vast army of idle negroes may cause some trouble and it is believed that all those who will not go to work at $1 a day and rations will be deported.

S. A. McCottery, who was employed at the Gardner shipyard, almost lost his life in trying to save the people who rushed down Market street to the river when the flames were at their fiercest. He says he succeeded in getting twenty persons across the river, but as many more were either burned to death or drowned at the pier.

The Alcazar, at St. Augustine, although closed several weeks ago for the season, has been re opened to care for the refugees. Other Winter resort hotels will probably open to-morrow, as the crowds leaving the city increased to-day.

Debris Still Burning.

Thousands of people worked yesterday and last night. The firemen have not been relieved because the debris is still burning and streams of water are being poured into the flames and embers all the time, night and day.

On every telegraph and telephone pole that was not destroyed, linemen were at work. The trolley company has a large force of men at work, hanging feed wires and clearing the tracks, where the streets were sufficiently cool, so as to establish car service as soon as possible. It will be several days before a car can pass into East Bay street.

Military on Duty.

Ten military companies are still on duty to prevent vandalism. A battery of guns is also in position at the corner of Bay and Market streets. These guns were rescued from the burning armory in which much of the equipment of the Jacksonville troops were lost. The militiamen will patrol the city. Martial law probably will be enforced at least another week.

The weather is much cooler to-day and the work of rehabilitation is being vigorously prosecuted.

Estimate of Losses.

An estimate on the total loss by the fire as given out by a former tax collector this afternoon, is as follows: Public buildings, $1,088,000; stores north side of Bay street, $495,000; stores on Maine street, $390,000; residences, prominent, $788,000; stores stores south side of Bay street, $880,000; stores on Forsyth street, $40,500; residences, fifteen hundred small, $2,000,000; residences, personal effects, $2,300,000; stocks of goods in stores, $1,630,000; stocks in two hundred smaller stores, $550,000; street railways, $30,000; pavements, $100,000. Total, $10,555,000.

Work of Relief.

The receipts of cash by the relief association and other agencies approximate fifty thousand dollars to-night.

Ten car loads of supplies were received to-day from Charleston and one from Atlanta as well as other smaller lots. Perfect order prevails.

Rebuilding Commenced.

The work of rebuilding has commenced. The owner of the Gardner building writes that he has ordered plans for the erection of an eight story building on the old site. This was the costliest business structure burned. Plans are preparing for rebuilding of the Windsor Hotel.

Insurance adjusters contine to arrive, but no concerted plan of loss settlements has been arranged.

The following statement was issued at 10.30 o'clock to-night:

"To the People of the United States:

"The Relief Committee having received many inquiries concerning the situation, desires to make the following general statement:

"The city of Jacksonville on Friday, May 3d, was visited by one of the most horrible and appalling calamities that has ever happened in any community of modern times. About noon of that day a fire was discovered in a small fibre factory in the extreme western portion of the city. A high wind was blowing eastward, carrying the flames over the heads of the firemen. The fire spread with such rapidity that our citizens had great difficulty in leaving their homes and places of business. In many cases they barely escaped with their lives, and we regret to say that a number were burned to death or drowned in their efforts to escape from the flames. The number at this time we have been unable to ascertain, although five bodies have been taken from the ruins, and from 10,000 to 15,000 people are homeless.

"The burnt area extends east and west, about two miles and north and south varying from one-half to three-quarters of a mile. In this area was situated the oldest and most populous portion of the city, embracing all classes of people, high and low, rich and poor. The flames carried before them homes, churches and all the public buildings save one. More than half of the business section was also consumed. The property loss aggregates from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000.

"All contributions of money should be sent to A. M. Ives, treasurer, and all supplies should be sent to Jacksonville Relief Association.

(Signed.) "The Jacksonville Relief Association, C. Garner: president; Edwin G. Weed, bishop of Florida; J. E. T. Bowden, Mayor; Telfair Stockton, special committee."

BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Adopted the Coal Tax Resolution by a Decisive Majority.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, May 6.—There was unusual animation and attendance in the House of Commons to day when the last instalment of the coal tax resolution debate was opened by Sir Edward Gray (Liberal), who defined the measure as harsh and oppressive. The House adopted the coal tax by a vote of 333 to 227.

REPORTS NOT EXAGGERATED.

Fifteen Thousand People in Jacksonville Are Homeless—Measures for Relief of Sufferers

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 6.—Mayor J. Adger Smyth to day forwarded to Jacksonville $1,000 on behalf of Charleston. Mayor Smyth also issued a call for contributions from citizens generally. These are coming in rapidly and it is believed that a considerable sum will be received here for the sufferers in the great fire.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., May 6.—It was announced at the general office of the Seaboard Air Line this morning that that road will transport free supplies for the Jacksonville fire sufferers, when consigned to Jacksonville municipal authorities or to duly organized relief committee at Jacksonville.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Quartermaster General's department to-day received a dispatch from Captain Parsons at Jacksonville, Fla., saying that he had arrived there with the hospital tents sent by the War Department. He adds that the reports of the loss have not been exaggerated and that 15,000 people are homeless.

MACON, GA., May 6.—Officers of the Southern Railway and the Georgia Southern and Florida announce that shipments of supplies for the Jacksonville sufferers will be forwarded free.

NEW YORK, May 6.—The joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Association, to raise funds for the relief of Jacksonville, to day authorized the purchase of supplies, costing $20,000, and ordered them sent South as fast as they could be shipped.

Mayor Hoos, of Jersey City, has issued an appeal for funds and food and clothing for the sufferers of the Jacksonville fire.

President M. J. O'Brien, of the Southern Express Company, to-day sent the following telegram to W. K. Haile, the Jacksonville superintendent of that company:

"We are authorized by the presidents of the American-Adams, United States and Wells Fargo Express Companies, to say that each will co-operate with the Southern Express Company, in transporting free of charge contributions of money and supplies, such as are usually regarded as express matter, for the benefit of the sufferers of the disastrous Jacksonville fire, when addressed to properly constituted relief committees."

NICARAGUA CANAL TREATY.

Said to Have Been Submitted to Lord Pauncefote by Secretary Hay—It Advises Neutrality.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, May 6.—The Associated Press has been officially notified that Lord Pauncefote has received from Secretary Hay the draft of a new Nicaragua canal treaty. It is understood that it advises neutrality.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—It is learned from an authoritative source that before Secretary Hay left here for the West he had several conferences with Lord Pauncefote relative to the basis for another isthmian canal treaty, and that an unofficial written memorandum was submitted to Lord Pauncefote on the subject. The ambassador has made known the general results of these conversations and of the memorandum to the authorities in London, and it is doubtless to this that allusion is made in the London dispatch. It is said, however, that the negotiations are so tentative and informal that they are not regarded as an official exchange or proposition. What they embody is not made known here though it is understood they are chiefly an exposition of the views held by United States Senators as to the essential features which should be included in a treaty. While this is not a proffer of a treaty, it conveys to the British authorities what is considered essential by the Senators who control the ratification of any treaty which will be made. It also is learned indirectly from Senators who have been consulted that among the chief features in the negotiations are a neutralizing of the canal, the United States alone undertaking to guarantee this neutrality and the admission of all shipping on an equal basis with that of the United States.

Although, as stated, the written memoranda have been exchanged, it is not expected that there will be any further negotiations prior to Lord Pauncefote's departure for London, June 15th, or during his absence.

THE HALL OF FAME.

Wilmington Lady, Representing Daughters of the Confederacy, to Unveil the Tablet to Gen. Lee.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, May 6.—The council of the New York University, at a meeting to-day, gave out the particulars concerning the unveiling of the tablets in the Hall of Fame on Decoration day.

Washington, the Society of the Cincinnati.

Jefferson, Sons of the American Revolution.

Webster, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Marshall, the American Bar Association, through Edwin Wetmore, president.

Farragut, National Association of Naval Veterans.

Lee, United Daughters of the Confederacy, represented by Miss Mary F. Meares, of Wilmington.

SEVERE HAIL STORM.

Great Damage to Young Corn, Cotton and Other Crops.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAVANNAH, May 6.—Specials from Burke and Emanuel counties report a heavy hail storm beginning last night at 9 o'clock and lasting until midnight. The hail remained on the ground at Adrian until nine o'clock this morning. The damage to truck farms and cotton is considerable. Much of the cotton was just coming up through the ground. The indications at present are that 75 per cent. of the cotton is beaten to pieces.

SELMA, ALA, May 6.—The heaviest hail storm in years visited this city to day. Stones the size of bird eggs fell during a driving wind and remained on the ground about forty minutes, damaging young corn and cotton.

A MART FOR THE WORLD'S GOODS.

United States Working Toward Opening All China, Including the Provinces.

ITS EFFORTS FIND SUPPORT.

Project Appeals Temptingly to Other Great Powers—May Aid in Settlement of Indemnity Question—Increase in Maritime Customs.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Inquiry here confirms the report that the United States is working, and finds support in its efforts toward the opening of all China, including the provinces, to the trade of the world. This does not mean the abolition of customs duties but would make every Chinese city a mart for the world's goods instead of limiting foreign commerce to the few existing treaty ports. The project is one that appeals temptingly to the commercial interests of others of the great Powers than the United States, and if it should command the support of the necessary number hope is entertained that it will indirectly aid in the settlement of the troublesome indemnity question.

The Opening of Manchuria.

LONDON, May 6.—A representative of the Associated Press was officially informed to-day that the statement of the Shanghai correspondent of the London Times that China has approached the Powers, suggesting a complete opening of Manchuria to the enterprise of all countries, and that replies have been received from Japan, the United States and Great Britain, is incorrect. China has not approached the Powers in regard to a general opening of Manchuria. What actually occurred was that a high Chinese official threw out such a suggestion and after some slight mention the matter ended there. It is realized in Downing street that any step towards securing the opening up of Manchuria would be construed at St. Petersburg as direct opposition to Russia's desires. The British Foreign Office has not the slightest intention of embarking upon such a fruitless task as the one indicated by the Times' correspondent and believes that the United States and Japan fully concur with that view.

Increase in Customs Duties.

It is now feared that in spite of the protest of the United States and Great Britain the Chinese maritime customs will be raised considerably above the five per cent. increase to which Great Britain consented in order to help China meet the indemnity. That such action will principally hurt American and British trade is keenly appreciated in Downing street, but, it appears that the increase cannot be avoided without the British and American withdrawal from the concert, which step Lord Lansdowne does not contemplate for a moment.

No official news has been received here of Germaus having fired on the British flag.

Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, in reporting the proceedings of the Lutheran Synod, says:

"At a critical juncture revealed by the excess of claims upon beneficiary to the extent of $500 a most beautiful and touching incident occurred. The venerable G. D. Bernheim, D. D., of Wilmington, arose and in tones which revealed the deep feeling of his heart, announced that he laid $500 in the hands of the Synod as a gift to the Lord to meet the crisis thus revealed. The Synod accepted the gift with expressions of gratitude and with a prayer of thanksgiving to God."
